

living apart because of other reason such as career, military service, family illness, etc.